The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

IF WE ARE GOING TO KEEP UP with the rapid changes in the international kaleidoscope we must miss the far-reaching implications of the Anglo-French low-flying raid out of the visit of Britain's Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden to Gen. De Gaulle in Paris.

This is one of the outstanding political developments of the war. It's something which will mount in importance, for we are witnessing—or so I believe—the early maneuvering of the great powers for post-war influence in a Europe which is on the verge of a new epoch.

We start from the premise that Russia bids fair to emerge as the dominant power not only of Europe but of Asia—that is, of the whole eastern hemisphere. In short, the Soviet union is cutting across the path of John Bull who long has been the undisputed policeman of Europe and points east.

The Paris conference is widely regarded as aiming at the formation of a bloc of western European nations—Britain, France, Belgium and Holland (and maybe others)—to guard against German aggression. Well, there's no doubt that the formation of a bloc is contemplated, and one of its aims would be to keep an eye on the Reich. Economic affairs also may be expected to play an important part. However, I believe that's only the prologue.

Gendarme John Bull knows he will have to give up a lot of his old beat—but he doesn't propose to be pushed off it altogether. So in order to safeguard his interests he's trying to consolidate western Europe in his sphere of influence. The question of realigning the spheres of influence in eastern Europe presumably formed an important item in the recent conversations between Churchill and Stalin. There will be other ploys—and probably some shrewd horse trading—for even the control of the Mediterranean may now be in question after generations of domination by Britannia.

DSC IS AWARDED TO ALLIANCE MAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The War Department announced today award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Staff Sgt. Philip C. Clark, 68 E. Main st., Alliance.

In the landing in France on June 6, 1944, he landed with a battalion headquarters but voluntarily joined a rifle company to aid in the assault, his citation read.

"Leaving the slight cover of a shale shelf, he crept under heavy enemy machinegun fire to barbed wire entanglements and forced a breach. He then led a group of men across a minefield to the foot of the heavily defended cliffs. Here, his men were pinned down by the intense machinegun fire. He charged the machinegun position, killing three of the crew in hand-to-hand combat and taking two prisoners.

"His personal bravery, skill and disregard for his own personal safety reflect great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the armed forces."

YANKS CLOSE IN ON ENEMY IN PHILIPPINES

American Divisions Inch Forward On Leyte From Four Directions

By C. YATES McDANIEL

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 16.—An American vise closed tighter on Gen. Yamashita's encircled Japanese on Leyte today, pressing to within 10 miles of Ormoc on the south, 14 on the east and about the same distance on the north.

Advances by four American divisions were small, but they came around the Japanese perimeter defending Ormoc, their last base on the island.

In the north, the American 24th division applied double pressure. On the road from Pinamapoon, the main body of the division lunged against enemy positions near Limon, gateway to the Ormoc corridor. West of the road, another unit of the division swung around through the hills, virtually cut the road behind an estimated 2,000 Japanese front line troops.

To the east and north, pressure was applied by the First Cavalry division, which overran several enemy strong points and seized hilltops as it moved westward through the tangled peaks. No road served this division; and its forward elements probed the roughest terrain to find the stubborn Japanese defense positions. Mt. Mamban, a 3,830-foot peak, and hills 4047 and 4018 fell to the cavalry.

29-Mile Separation

Far to the south, the veteran Seventh division was disclosed to have advanced four miles to the west coast town of Balogo, 10 miles from Ormoc. Less than 30 miles now separates the 24th on the north and the Seventh on the south.

The daily headquarters communiqué announced the division had repelled a Japanese counter-attack at Balogo, killing or wounding approximately half the attackers.

The Seventh today stands closer to Ormoc itself than either of the other advanced American units. It was last previously reported at Demulan, 14 miles south of Ormoc, when it broke up a small Japanese landing attempt Tuesday night.

NAB SEBRING BOYS IN THEFT OF CAR

A car, stolen Tuesday night from Mrs. Harold DeRondes, 815 Prospect st., was recovered early today in New Philadelphia by state patrolmen who arrested two Sebring youths—one absent without leave from the army—and charged them with the theft.

The automobile was taken from a parking place on Ohio ave. Police reports say the auto is apparently undamaged.

The two youths, Pvt. Walter Weigand, 20, and his 15-year-old brother, William, were arrested when stopped in the car by state highway police. Both have juvenile records here, Salem police said, and the soldier is being sought by military authorities.

Police Chief Ralph Stoffer planned to go to New Philadelphia today to return the youths here for trial.

Community Fund Council Names Two New Directors

Charles R. Haldi and Russell C. Gibbs were elected directors of the Salem Community Fund association at a meeting of the association council this week.

These new directors replace R. F. Benzinger and T. E. Miller, whose terms expired. The board will meet at noon Monday at the Cape hotel to select a ninth director, who will be assistant chairman of next year's Community Chest campaign. E. M. Stephenson, assistant this year, will become chairman.

CHINESE REFUGEES 'RIDE THE RODS' FROM WAR ZONE

REMINISCENT OF THE DAYS when American hoboes "rode the rods" is the manner in which Chinese women and children evacuate those eastern China areas where the Japs have been steadily advancing. Above is a typical family scene, with mothers, babes in arms and youngsters sharing quarters just above the rails. Everything they own travels with them and, in the center of this "lower berth", an invalid is propped up. Below is a typical refugee train, loaded from cowcatcher to the "rods."

Waiter, Ex-Sailor Confesses Mutilation Killings In Los Angeles

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—A husky, 31-year-old waiter was held incommunicado today after confessing, police said, one of the most fiendish crimes on record—the mutilation slaying of two nude women in separate downtown hotels.

Drinking wine at a nearby bar, Otto Steve Wilson, recently medically discharged from the Navy, was handcuffed last night by an alert patrolman shortly after the suspect's description had been broadcast.

The first victim was Virgie Lee Griffin, 25, wife of a truck driver. A hotel maid on routine cleaning rounds found her lying disemboweled in the closet of one room. The torso had been slit from neck to abdomen, the right leg severed at the hip and knee, the right shoulder hacked through. Bits of flesh, cut from other parts of the body, littered the blood-soaked carpet. A butcher knife with a 9-inch blade lay nearby. Razor blades were scattered on the floor.

Police Detective Lt. R. F. McGarry quoted Wilson as saying he killed

RATION WHISKIES ON 3-WEEK BASIS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16.—Ohio's next liquor ration period beginning Monday will be increased from two to three weeks, but card holders will be permitted to purchase two units for the first time since rationing began nearly two years ago.

Liquor Director Don Fisher, in announcing this today, said also that henceforth a husband could buy his wife's allotment, or a wife her husband's, the only stipulation being that cards of both be presented at the same time.

Fisher said that the two units to which they are entitled beginning Monday—two quarts, two fifths or four pints of whiskey or domestic gin—may be purchased on either one or two trips to the liquor retail store.

Fisher also disclosed that, effective Monday, he is placing on the not-ration list 20,000 cases of P & T Reserve blended whiskey. This followed, he explained, notification by the distiller that the formula is being changed the first of the year and that the liquor department always has placed on its non-rationed list any spirits that are to be changed in character or discontinued.

FUNERAL FRIDAY FOR GIRL CRUSHED BY FLOWER BOX

CANFIELD, Nov. 16.—Funeral service will be held Friday at the Williams funeral home for Dixie Lee Wimberly, four, of R. D. 1, Canfield, who died yesterday of injuries suffered when a flower box at a neighbor's home fell on her.

Dixie and another child, Bobby Wright, are reported to have been hanging on the window flower box when it came loose and crashed to the ground, pinning the little girl under it. She was dead on arrival at South Side unit of Youngstown hospital.

A daughter of Ronald and Dorothy Bevan Wimberly, she was born Oct. 7, 1940, in Canfield and was a member of the Methodist church Sunday school.

Besides her parents, she leaves two sisters, Norma Jean and George Mae, both at home, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bevan and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wimberly of Youngstown.

Guidance Conference Attracts Teachers From District Towns

Nearly all of Salem's teachers, principals and guidance workers and representatives of surrounding community schools took part in the conferences at Salem High school yesterday afternoon and evening.

Conducted by state department of education leaders to promote a more complete guidance program here and in other district schools.

The afternoon meeting, under the supervision of Dr. Wilda M. Rosebrook, member of the special education department of Ohio State university, considered the "Planning For Guidance In Salem Schools." Nearly the entire Salem staff was in attendance, Supt. E. S. Kerr said, and several visitors from nearby schools also took part.

Dr. Rosebrook was assisted by Susanne Koehler, supervisor of Kent state university's special training school.

The evening session featured dinner in the home economics room, served by the members of Mrs. W. L. Strain's home economics classes. Included in the meeting were representatives from Lisbon, Columbiana, Wellsville, Ravenna, Alliance, East Palestine, Canfield, East Liverpool, Toronto, and Sebring.

Two Thugs Rob Tavern Owner

Rogers Proprietor Kicked In Face Resisting Holdup Men

Police today are searching for two men, believed to be from Youngstown, who held up Fred Sloan, proprietor of a small tavern at the junction of Route 7 and the railroad in Rogers, at 7:30 a. m. today and escaped with approximately $50 in cash and some household goods.

The men entered the tavern as customers early today and stood before an open grate a few minutes before one pulled a gun and threatened Sloan. They trusted up the proprietor, kicked him in the face when he tried to resist and looted the music box, candy case and vending machines and then ransacked the house which adjoined the tavern.

Warning Sloan not to make a disturbance for 10 minutes, they drove away in a green colored sedan. Sloan managed to free himself and ran next door to the Rudabaugh feed mill to call the sheriff's office. Unable to contact that office he phoned the Salem state patrol sub-station and a search was immediately begun.

Police were watching highways in this vicinity all morning and Youngstown police were notified to be on the lookout for the green car.

Berlin To Hear Report From Stockholm Envoy

(By Associated Press)

The Germans news agency DNB sent as a "flash" in its overseas service today an announcement that Dr. Hans Thomsen, German minister in Stockholm, "is in Berlin to submit his report."

This emphasized recent tension between the German and Swedish governments and recalled that Germany recently summoned to Berlin her envoys to neutral Portugal and Spain and announced they would not return to the Iberian peninsula.

Thomsen, former counselor of the German embassy in Washington, in 1941 delivered the German declaration of war to the State department.

Troops, Unheard From For Months, Attack Near Dutch Border

By Wes Gallagher

WITH THE U. S. NINTH ARMY, Germany, Nov. 16.—The United States Ninth army, whose whereabouts have been a major secret for months, attacked German homeland defenses near the Dutch border today.

The Ninth, commanded by Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson who is known familiarly as "Texas Bill," attacked at 12:45 p. m. after planes had laid an aerial bombardment. The aircraft continued to support the attack.

The announcement that the Ninth had sprung virtually into the west was made after a two-month silence concerning its movements. The Ninth was last heard from two months ago when the Great Atlantic port of Brest was toppled.

It was the fourth American army beating against the German west wall fortifications. Others are the First, commanded by Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges; the Third, commanded by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., now on the offensive at Metz; and the Seventh, commanded by Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch in the Belfort region.

Since Brest fell, the Texas general with a coyote walk and sharp features has moved his Ninth army mysteriously across three countries, France, Belgium and Holland, to present positions inside Germany. (These presumably are in the Aachen sector, where the deepest penetrations of the Reich have been made. The First army also is operating there.)

The Ninth army leap-frogged nearly 80 miles across paths of other armies to befuddle the Germans. The move constituted one of the best strategy stories of the war. Before Brest, the U. S. Ninth army was first mentioned at Beaungency in France, where it accepted the surrender of nearly 20,000 prisoners. On Oct. 31, Supreme headquarters announced the Ninth had captured more than 50,000 Nazis in its short span of operations.

Missing In Action

EAST LIVERPOOL, Nov. 16.—Pvt. John F. Morris, Jr., 22, an infantryman, today was reported missing since Oct. 29 in Holland, the War department advised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris.

Marine Pvt. Donald Junkerman, 20, a former High school drum major, was wounded while serving as a machine gunner during the invasion of the Palau Island, two months ago, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Junkerman, were informed.

Relationship With U. S. Is Hailed By Russians

MOSCOW, Nov. 16.—The Soviet Press hailed today's 11th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States of America as the most important date "in the history of relations between the two greatest democratic countries in the world."

Ivestia declared the effectiveness of the cooperation between the two nations is "brightly expressed" in the struggle of their freedom loving peoples with the enemy.

Recalled From Sweden

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Sweden has ordered German agents to leave the country immediately, BBC said today in a broadcast recorded by NBC.

1,700 Bombers Blast Nazi Concentrations In Massive Offensive

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The American First and Ninth armies, paced by a 1,700-plane bombardment of German defenses northeast of Aachen, launched a massive offensive into the Rhineland today.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army veterans sprang forward at 11 o'clock as 1,200 heavy bombers crashed their bombs on the Dureneschweider arc from four to six miles ahead of the doughboy lines east and southeast of Aachen.

An hour and 45 minutes later the U. S. Ninth army, whose whereabouts had been a secret two months, plunged into a new assault on the German homeland defenses near the Dutch frontier, and the entire 400-mile Allied front from the marshy lowlands of Holland to the Alps of Switzerland was in motion.

This may be Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's all-out winter offensive.

Lt. Gen. William (Texas Bill) Simpson's Ninth army popped up at the German front door after being transferred 800 miles across France, Belgium and Holland and moved across the lines of communication of several other armies.

Declares Japs Plan Final Battles On Asiatic Ground

By Spencer Moosa

CHUNGKING, Nov. 16.—Japan plans to fight the final, decisive battles of the war on the Asiatic mainland and is steadily reinforcing her substantial strength in South China, Maj. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer said in an interview today.

He succeeded Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Oct. 31 as commander of U. S. forces in the China theater and as chief of staff to President Chiang Kai-Shek. He declined to discuss the removal of Gen. Stilwell.

Wedemeyer said he believed the war against Japan would last about a year after Germany was beaten, "but everyone thought the war in Europe would be over this year—and it may run into early next summer."

He said Japanese strategy originally based on employment of naval and air forces had proved ineffective. The Japanese now have gone from an oceanic to a continental strategy, he said, adding: "The Japanese army is fairly well intact and well trained and equipped."

"He declined to estimate Japanese strength in South China except to say it represented a very formidable array, steadily being strengthened."

He avoided on military grounds any forecast of the direction of Japanese drives, but said that in executing her continental strategy, Japan obviously would want to have her rear protected and "you can draw your own conclusions."

"The best way the Allies can help China is to bring all available resources to bear on the one object—and that's killing Japanese," he said.

The general said the United States would continue to support China in the air, bring in whatever supplies possible, maintain efforts in the Pacific to subjugate the Japanese and organize and train Chinese troops to increase their efficiency.

Questioned whether China could contribute effectively to the war against Japan without a compromise between the government and the Chinese Communists, Wedemeyer said:

"The degree of effectiveness without the help of the Communists is difficult to determine. But it is a basic premise that unity in war is essential to fight effectively."

Three Men Injured In Route 14 Crash

Two Cleveland men and a Lee-tonia driver, Mike Romane, 21, were injured at 11 p. m. yesterday when the Clevelanders' car crashed into the rear of Romane's as both were going north on Route 14, near the Pennsylvania railroad underpass.

State patrolmen said Romane's car evidently was slowing down and nearly stopped when the other car, driven by Paul White, 25, of Cleveland, struck it.

Romane was taken to the Central Clinic with back and chest injuries. White was admitted to Salem City hospital for treatment of lacerations of the forehead and right knee and a fractured rib. A passenger in White's car, William S. Richardson, 35, suffered a fractured jaw and lacerations of the head and face.

Both cars were badly damaged.

OPA Warns On Gas Use For Winter Vacations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—To motorists toying with the idea of using supplemental gasoline rations to travel to winter resorts, the Office of Price Administration today offered this advice:

Don't do it.

Such use is illegal, OPA said, adding there will be no rations issued for return trips. In cases of misuse, the agency warned, motorists "will be called before hearing commissioners who have the power to revoke not only supplemental "B" and "C" rations, but basic "A" rations as well."

Kirwin In Washington To Press Canal Demands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Representative Michael Kirwin of Youngstown is back in Washington ready to push for passage of legislation authorizing the Beaver-Mahoning canal from the Ohio river to the Youngstown steel district.

He said in an interview that Democratic gains in the recent election improved prospects for approval of the project by the house. The canal, estimated to cost $35,500,000, also is favored by Senator Robert H. Taft and Harold H. Burton as well as Representative-at-Large George H. Bender, all Republicans.

Simultaneous Climaxes

Advances toward Metz leave no room for doubt that the battle to win entrance into western Germany is approaching a climax. All signs in Europe now point to the same probability—a great Allied drive for victory this winter.

Meanwhile, in the Pacific, as Hanson W. Baldwin, military expert of The New York Times, has pointed out, a simultaneous climax is in the making. Baldwin asserts that the battle of Japan is being fought in the Philippines, much the same way as the battle of Germany is being fought in France and Poland.

Japan has committed important units of its naval strength in the Philippines. On Leyte and ultimately on Luzon, the United States will be in conflict with the Japanese "first team." Triumph in the Philippines might—probably would—signify triumph in the decisive battle of the whole Pacific war, further battles might be military anti-climaxes.

The United States has speculated consistently on the probable end of the war in Europe first, to be followed after an interval of a year or more by the end of the war against Japan. Sometimes, the speculation has taken a perverse turn and placed the end of the war with Japan first, but now there is the further possibility that the war may come to a simultaneous climax. Insofar as the Axis alliance is a functional as well as a formal military agreement, it would call for forcing the Allies to reach a decision against the maximum, not the minimum, handicap, which would explain why Japan seems to be pressing for a showdown in the Philippines now on the eve of the showdown in Europe, instead of waiting until more forces can be spared from Europe for use in the Pacific.

Congress Resumes Its Role

By hindsight, it is clear that predictions of an increase in Republican congressional strength whether Mr. Roosevelt won or lost did not take into sufficient account the longest and strongest coat-tails in politics. Democrats made good use of them. It is therefore, not so significant that Democrats increased their numerical strength in the 1944 election as it is that they were unable to approach the overwhelming superiority they held after the presidential elections in 1940 and 1936. Their totals of 244 to 185 Republicans in the house and 58 to 37 in the senate are impressive only because of the inclusion of representatives and senators from the south too, in many cases, cannot be counted on to vote with the party.

In the remainder of the second session of the existing congress, as in the first session of the new congress which convenes next January, the congressional role of anchor-to-wardwind on domestic policy will be resumed. Mr. Roosevelt was reelected to continue the prosecution of the war. In a very real sense, congress is relied on for leadership in domestic policy. Outside the south, wherever members must stand for reelection in open contests, the congressional elections of 1948 probably will be a repetition of 1942, when the minority almost became the majority in numbers and did become the majority in effect due to the support it received from Democrats who were only nominally in sympathy with administrative policy on the home front.

No Cigaret Rationing

Nationwide clamor "to do something" about cigarettes is not going to lead to government rationing, apparently, and there can be no quarrel on that point. Cigarets may be a cost-of-living item, but they are not sufficiently important in the national scheme of life to be put on ration lists.

In the absence of cigarette rationing, therefore, it becomes one of the voluntary obligations of civilians to help solve the problem vexing so many of them. The first step is to refuse to buy black market cigarettes. The next is to quit trying to get ahead of a supply which is obviously inadequate for the demand on it. The third, which won't be taken willingly but is being taken unwillingly in more and more instances is to gear individual consumption of cigarettes to the supply. The difference between 20 and 15 cigarettes a day, multiplied by the total of the nation's smokers, is the difference between not enough and enough.

The Edible Hitler

Germany's strong men, themselves, now lend their words to speculation about Hitler's whereabouts and condition. Apparently, official propaganda is easing the German population into realization that for unexplained reasons, the symbolic fuhrer is no longer to be available as a symbol.

He may be too busy, which is the official explanation. He may be too ill, which is unofficial speculation. He may be dead, which so far is chiefly a wishful thought. But there are other possibilities.

Hitler may have fled of his own free will, but that is unlikely. It does not fit in with what is known of his fanatic zeal. More likely is the possibility that he has been forced to abdicate his leadership by some of his own lieutenants, in the manner of the gangsters whose methods the Nazi party copied. In gang tactics, discredited leaders can expect no mercy from their underlings. Dog eats dog whenever dog becomes edible. Hitler may have become edible.

The Stars Say

For Friday, November 17

TODAY'S auguries point to sudden and dramatic events or adventures of an unprecedented and unpredictable nature, which may be difficult to turn to lasting advantage unless this be subjected to keen analysis, with sound, sensible and logical management of puzzling and peculiar situations or circumstances. Beware erratic or impulsive judgments, legal entanglements, strange alliances, and safeguard all possessions as well as mental and physical safety. Emotional calm gets security.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of sudden and unpredictable events, with a probable complete reversal of old ideas, programs and objectives, due to this surprising turn of the "wheel of fortune." A drastic or radical sweeping off the feet or balance might precipitate regrettable situations while a calm, poised, sensible and unemotional mode of action might bring dramatic adventures and desirable change, having far reaching consequence on the future good fortune and happiness. Keep clear of legal entanglements, tricky involvements, personal hazards, or all dangers from impulsive or erratic behavior.

A child born on this day might be temperamental, erratic and unusual in conduct, with unfavorable reactions on its fortunes, success and happiness in life.

V-2 In Action

By James Thasher

Prime Minister Churchill's admission that German V-2 rockets have landed in England still leaves their effectiveness a matter of conjecture. It will likely remain so during the closing phase of the war in Europe. For military authorities aren't going to oblige the Nazis by confirming claims that the V-2 has landed in London, Paris and Antwerp, any more than they would announce a direct hit on Manhattan Island.

Even those who are in the vicinity of a V-2 hit (and survive the experience) cannot know where the missile was aimed, and thus cannot judge its accuracy. It also seems unlikely that, with Allied air superiority, German reconnaissance planes are able to take home a very complete picture of V-2 results. So at present the Germans know the beginning of the story, and the V-2 recipients the end. The rest is speculation on both sides.

It does seem certain, though, that the present V-2 is not so much a new super-horror weapon as it is a counter-defensive modification of the V-1. Neutral sources say the V-2 is about twice as long as the V-1, and weighs some 15 tons. But Mr. Churchill reports that it carries the same one-ton explosive load.

How much the V-2 has been changed and scaled down cannot be known. But the fact remains that it seems to be serving largely as a supplement to the V-1s launched by plane from the North Sea since the loss of the Channel coast launching ramps. The V-2's great advantage—a fiendish psychological one—is that, since it falls to earth at a speed greater than that of sound, its approach cannot be detected. Wherever it strikes it comes as swiftly and noiselessly as a bolt of lightning.

It seems doubtful that the V-2 can be very accurate. Only a ballistics expert could speak intelligently of the difficulties of sending a missile 200 miles or more through a trajectory whose apex is 60 or 70 miles above the earth. But one can guess that there are tremendous mathematical calculations involving the earth's rotation and curvature, and various atmospheric conditions.

Rocket weapons date back 700 years and come down to fairly recent history. We sing of them thoughtlessly in our national anthem, but in the same war of 1812 they routed the defenders of Washington in the battle of Bladensburg. Their abiding fault, however, was their inaccuracy. And with the development of the rifled gun barrel they became obsolete.

Now they are back, perhaps controlled by radio, infinitely more deadly. Unless a swift Allied advance paralyzes their production both their deadliness and accuracy will improve, for the Germans still possess good technical minds. And unless they are outlawed after this war, as poison gas was after the last, they present a ghastly threat to the whole world in another conflict.

Outlawing the production and use of rocket bombs is a specific job for the world's peace guardians, even while they outlaw war in general.

Latest Experiments With Streptothrix

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
ONE SCIENTIFIC discovery stimulates the imagination of the world to others along the same line.

When I was a medical student there was not a single drug for which it could be claimed that taken inside the body it killed a germ or bacterium of disease. There were drugs for animal parasites, such as quinine for malaria, and ipecac for amebic dysentery, but these did not strictly come within the definition of bacteria. Just about the time I was graduated salvarsan, or 606, was introduced and later the genius of Paul de Kruif gave it the name of the magic bullet, because it was a bullet that killed only the harmful germ of disease and did not injure the tissues of the host in which the germ was imbedded. Still 606 was also directed against an animal parasite rather than a bacterium.

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Discovery of Sulfa
Then we all remember the excitement of the sulfa drugs about ten years ago. They did affect bacteria, animal parasites. Their particular affinity of virulence was against the streptococci group, including the pneumococci, so their use was, and largely still is, limited to pneumonia and blood poisoning.

Then came penicillin. One thought at the time of the announcement of the good effects that there was hardly any place for penicillin. The sulfa drugs seemed to be doing such a good job. At first it was announced that penicillin was valuable only against the staphylococci groups—those which cause boils and carbuncles and localized pustular infections, but of late it has been found that it is valuable against a wide range of infections.

Still the research and new discoveries go on. The latest announcements concern a substance called streptothrix. It is still in the experimental stage, but it seems to be antagonistic to still another group of germs, the typhoid-bacillary dysentery—colon bacillus group which causes disturbances mostly in the intestines.

Experiments With Streptothrix
The history of the substance dates from 1941 when Wakeman, of the New Jersey Agricultural Station, isolated a substance from the soil, streptothrix. It might seem to a casual non-scientific reader that these discoveries just happen, but there is hard work involved. Streptothrix, for instance, is absorbed on charcoal from a fluid culture medium from which it can be recovered by dilute acid. Behind that fairly simple sentence then lies hours and probably weeks and months of hard work, of trial and error.

After it was isolated a long series of experiments had to be made to find out what it would do. The exact dilution at which it would operate best had to be found. Experiments on culture media showed it had an inhibitory action on the kind of bacteria mentioned. But would it work in vivo—in a living animal? That could only be found by animal experiment which was carried out in mice. Finally it was tentatively tried out on patients.

The experiments, as I have indicated, are still going on. It is not yet ready to put on the druggist's shelves. But the fact that this new discovery in the tradition of the great triumphs of chemotherapy during the past decade indicates that we may expect more such discoveries in the near future.

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY—Patrols near Haaren, Germany, got so tired of rescuing downed pilots that they decided to put out a large sign reading: "Front line 400 yards ahead—Are you lost, bud?"

Pfc. John W. Lee of East Liverpool, Ohio, was never so cool as when he and his buddy, Pfc. Harvey Picher of Laurel Hill, Pa., were trapped by advancing German SS troops.

Lee and Picher decided the only way out was to play dead. They lay still while enemy soldiers rifled their pockets and stole their equipment. That was hard enough, but Lee said three times within half-hour the Germans within five hand grenades on his stomach as a convenient resting place before tossing them at a nearby American mortar squad which finally drove the Germans away.

Many Americans are disputing over which was the first to cross the German border, but nobody so far has questioned Pfc. Charles Myer of Baltimore, who claims he was the first invading American to have a tooth filled in Germany.

It was Sept. 16 under a tarpaulin stretched from a half-track. Capt. John O. Mussey of Bay Springs, Miss., and T-5 Elwood E. Case of Frankfurt, N. Y., did the job. Mussey putting in the filling while Case finished the footpaw for the dental drill.

It was a French family and they were very hospitable to the two American soldiers. After drinking wine with the folks for half an hour, Maj. Paul A. Danahy of Buffalo, N. Y., and his scout, Sgt. Duke Bernay of Berlin, N. H., asked casually, "Where are the Germans?"

Just as casually, one of the French replied:

"Out in the back yard."

The startled Americans looked out a window, and sure enough there were several heavily-armed German troops hanging about.

The Americans had only one carbine and a pistol between them. They thought it over—and left by the front door.

Doughboys of the first infantry division stopped the captured convoy and found it consisted chiefly of vast quantities of liquid refreshments—but hard! Hogan plans to look at the loads of any future vehicles he captures.

Tobacco Quotas Boosted For '45 By Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 — The government moved today to make more cigarettes available in the future by increasing 1945 production quotas of cigarette tobacco.

The War Food administration said farmers will be permitted next year to plant three per cent more flue-cured and two per cent more burley tobacco—principal types used in cigarettes.

Reduced stocks of tobacco, coupled with large overseas military and lend-lease demands and increased domestic demand were said to be factors in the present cigarette shortage. Other factors, officials said, include shortages of labor for cigarette manufacture and of shipping containers as well as consumer hoarding.

Flue-cured and burley tobacco are grown under rigid government crop control programs which penalize farmers for excess production.

CITES NEW ALLOYS NEED FOR USE IN FUTURE AIRCRAFT

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 — Creation of new alloys for the jet planes of future war was called for today by Maj. Gen. G. H. Barnes, chief of research for U. S. Ordnance.

Gen. Barnes did not specifically mention rockets in a report to the first wartime meeting of the National Academy of Sciences. But the jet plane needs he outlined are almost exactly the same as those published for rockets before this war was started.

The new alloys, he said, are needed to stand extraordinary heat.

This heat comes from the explosive discharge of hot gases, or of the series of separate rapid-fire explosions, which drive a jet plane or a rocket.

The rocket heats in the past have been extremely high, apparently being above the jet plane heat.

"The introduction of jet propulsion into war material," Gen. Barnes said, "creates an additional need for steels to withstand abnormal elevated temperatures. The alloys now available are costly, difficult to produce, and may not be available in sufficient quantities should this development become a major factor in warfare."

Another future war possibility is use boron, tellurium and other chemical elements for ordnance.

Boron, he explained, has been used in American steel-making in this war and its use is still widening.

Boron, familiar to the public only as boric acid for eye washes, was one of numerous things which enabled the nation, when alloys were critically short in the present war, to reduce the alloy content of shells and armor by one quarter, without reduction in efficiency.

Among the great scientific strides in this war, he said, are casting armor plate instead of rolling. Casting was started with practically no knowledge of the process. Before the war Swedish steel was used almost exclusively for high-stressed springs.

Now a new method, still secret, produces much better springs.

Gun barrels up to 75 mm are now rolled in seamless tubing mills. The continuous strip mills, that rolled thin auto steel, learned how to roll thick ship plate. And, said Gen. Barnes, in no other way could the abnormal demand of the Navy and maritime commission have been met.

Among the animals to be found in Norway are the bear, lynx, wolf, deer, elk, reindeer, gibbon, lemming, fox, hare and beaver.

Liverpool Store Clerks Rally For Bond Drive

EAST LIVERPOOL, Nov. 16 — All business houses will delay their opening until 9:30 a. m. Friday to permit clerks to attend a 20-minute rally in the Ceramic theater, when plans will be mapped for store employees' participation in the Sixth War Bond drive, opening Monday.

Each of the city's 500 store clerks will be asked to sell at least $300 worth of the bonds in the four-week campaign for a city-wide quota of $2,452,695.

Lt. Vender, Betty Weichich Married In Church Rites

Marine Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph J. Vender, whose wedding was an event of Saturday, Nov. 11, are visiting relatives here following a short wedding trip. The Marine officer will leave for his new station at Camp Pendleton, Calif., on Saturday and his bride will join him on the coast in a few weeks. They will make their home at Oceanside, Calif.

The former Miss Betty Weichich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weichich of Cleveland, and Lieut. Vender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vender of W. Pershing st., were united in marriage at 9 a. m. by Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney. The ceremony was solemnized in St. Paul's Catholic church with friends and relatives of the couple attending.

Attendants were Mrs. James W. Griffey of Cleveland, sister of the bride, and Marine Corp. Theodore Virag of Cleveland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle taffeta gown with fingertip veil and carried a pale orchid, white roses and stephanotis shower bouquet. Her gown was fashioned with sweet-heart neckline, long sleeves edged with a narrow ruffle of the material. The full skirt, edged with a wide ruffle of the material formed a long train trimmed with a ruffle of tulle. Her veil was arranged in clusters of orange blossoms.

Her sister wore a blue and silver brocade tulle gown with full skirt made in gathered tiers. Her bouquet was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Weichich, mother of the bride, in a black gown, and Mrs. Vender, mother of the groom, wearing navy blue, had corsages of yellow roses.

A reception was given at the home of the groom's parents, following the ceremony, for about 50 guests.

The bride, a graduate of John Hay High school in Cleveland, is employed by the Erie railroad there. Lieut. Vender, who attended John Carroll university, graduated from Penn State college completing his college work under the Navy's V-12 program. He has been in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve for two years, training at Parris Island, Camp Lejeune, and Quantico, Va., where he received his commission Aug. 30. He has been stationed there until his recent transfer to Camp Pendleton.

Helen Oana Is Bride Of Air Corps Officer

Mr. and Mrs. John Oana of 408 S. Ellsworth ave., announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Lieut. Mahlon D. Loomer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest A. Loomer of Bellingham, Wash., on Nov. 6.

The marriage was solemnized at San Antonio, Tex., where the bride was in nurses training as a member of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps and Lieut. Loomer was stationed with the Army Air Corps.

The bride wore a teal blue suit with brown accessories and gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Loomer, a graduate of Salem High school in 1944 will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Fred Kaiser, Benton rd. Her husband, who attended Washington State university, is now stationed at Maxton field, Maxton, N. C.

Miss Hinkley, Bride-elect, Honored at Party

A party honoring Lieut. Dorothy Hinkley, and her fiancé, Capt. Robert Barton, was given by the Salvation Army last night at the recreation hall on S. Broadway. The affair was a welcome for the bride-elect, who has recently completed training in Salvation Army work in New York City.

Speakers included Mrs. Lillian Wyss, representing the senior department, Miss Dorothy Ingledue for the young people's department, and Lieut. Howard Daniels, representing the officials.

Tables where refreshments were served were decorated with flowers and candles in blue and white.

Travelers To Have Thanksgiving Tea

A Thanksgiving day tea will be held by Travelers club members in place of a regular meeting Nov. 21 at the library assembly room. The program will feature a book review by Mrs. L. P. Metzger. Mrs. John Works is head of the committee for the tea.

Plans for the event were announced at Tuesday's meeting in the library.

In a study of the problems of veterans, three papers were presented, including: "Demobilization," Mrs. Vesta King; "Rehabilitation of Disabled," Mrs. Brooke Anderson; "Political Influence," Mrs. Joel Sharp.

Moose Women to Attend Welfare Conference

Six applications for membership were approved last night by the Women of the Moose at a meeting in the lodge hall.

Plans were made for Mrs. Otto Walker, social service chairman and other members to attend an annual conference of Moose social service chiefs with the Ohio Moose Welfare group at Columbus Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Miss Laura Brown won the special prize during the social hour. Initiation and a covered dinner will feature the Nov. 29 session.

Farewell Party Held For Mrs. McCoy

Mrs. Frank Ferko entertained at a farewell party last night at her home Fair ave., honoring Mrs. John McCoy who will move soon to make her home in another city. Guests enjoyed "500" and a lunch served at a table attractive with Thanksgiving appointments. Mrs. McCoy received a number of gifts.

Family Dinner Observes 65th Wedding Date

A quiet family dinner last night marked the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lodge, Washington ave., where they live with their daughter, Mrs. Barbara Capel.

The couple have lived in Salem for 45 years, coming here from Franklin Square where they made their home for 20 years.

The former Miss Anna Hillman of Salem, Mrs. Lodge was a teacher in district schools for a number of years. Her husband was employed as gardener and caretaker until a few years ago.

Mrs. Gene Cantwell of N. Lundy ave., has returned from Sacramento, Calif., where she has been visiting her brother, Lieut. R. V. Layden, who is stationed at McClellan field, Calif. She also visited in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

U. S. Indians Want Out Of White Man's Corral

DENVER, Nov. 16.—Representatives of America's 400,000 Indians met in Denver today to organize a national council "to get out of the corral" in which, a spokesman said, they had been left by the white man.

Descendants of the red man who watched—and sometimes fought—the advance of the white man's civilization heard John Max, aged Sioux leader, speaking from a prepared address through an interpreter, declare a national organization must be forthcoming from the meeting.

Some of the delegates, representing 50 U. S. tribes, attended in business clothes but others wore traditional headdresses and tribal garments.

D'Arcy McNickle of Washington, a member of the Flathead tribe, said that in some states Indians cannot vote and cannot legally drink alcoholic beverages anywhere but "can only die for their country." There are 22,000 Indians in the services, he added.

Recipe for a V-Mail Letter

Read the other day about a G.I. overseas who received an installment notice from the income tax collector. He wrote back: "Over here, even a letter from you is news from home."

A gag, of course—but with an overtone of truth about it. More than anything else, the men like getting letters from home. More than anything else, our V-Mail letters can help to keep up their morale.

What to write about? That's the easiest thing of all. For it's the little things they dream of and remember! The backyard baseball games... the fishing trips... the picnics with the chicken sandwiches and ice cold beer.

From where I sit, the least we can do is write those V-Mail letters often—let our men know that those little things they miss so much—from the ball games to the beer—are still here, waiting for them till they come back home.

300 AT DAMASCUS METHODIST RALLY

DAMASCUS, Nov. 16 — The annual booth festival held by the Youth Fellowship group of the Methodist churches of Columbiana county here Tuesday evening.

The canned goods, fruit and vegetables donated by the groups will be taken to the Elyria Home for the Aged, and the Children's home at Berea.

Approximately 300 were present from East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine, Columbiana, Leona, Salem, Winona, Washingtonville, New Waterford, Solineville, Bunker Hill, Rogers, East Rochester and Damascus.

The young people of Salem presented a program consisting of vocal and instrumental music and Rev. J. A. Scott gave a brief talk.

Lunch was served by the young people of the Damascus and Bunker Hill churches.

Plan Gift Exchange

An exchange of Christmas gifts was planned by members of the Women's Bible class of the Methodist church when names were drawn Tuesday afternoon. The group was entertained by Mrs. Charles Knight with Mrs. Charles Pyle and Mrs. Fred Israel associate hostesses. Mrs. Ada Miller conducted the devotionals and roll call was answered by giving a Thanksgiving poem.

Mrs. L. S. Strawn, president, was in charge of a business session, and a letter was read from Mrs. J. P. Shaffer of Cleveland, former president of the class, by Mrs. H. L. Peoples. Lunch was served by the hostesses with 18 members present.

Hostesses Dec. 12 will be Mrs. Harry Weikart, Mrs. B. E. Cameron and Mrs. Norma Yates.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Stanley entertained at a family dinner Sunday in observance of his birthday anniversary.

Gifts were presented the honoree and a social time enjoyed. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Oesch of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Oesch, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley and Mrs. Oesch and children.

Nephew Is Killed

Mrs. Almira Crum has received word that her nephew, Lewis Park of Baden, Pa., was killed in action in Holland, Oct. 29. He is the grandson of D. J. Park of Baden, well known here.

Mrs. Margaret Chambers attended a meeting of the trustees of the Cleveland Bible college this week and visited her son, Curtis, and Mrs. Erba Maddox and Miss Esther Maule of Cleveland.

Miss Dorothy Weaver of Canton spent Sunday with Miss Adrienne Spahn.

Mrs. Regis May of Sebring spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Talbott.

Word has been received that T. S. Earl Oesch has been transferred from Camp Maxey, Texas, to Camp Hood, Texas. Mrs. Oesch and son who accompanied him to Camp Maxey recently have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ebel of Berlin Center spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Strawn.

Miss Mamie Coppe is reported critically ill.

Lights! Out!

NEW YORK — Cigar and cigarette smokers in the New York subways are in danger of jail sentences. Magistrate William Klapp, saying the condition is "becoming unbearable" recently fined a group of men $5 each and warned that future offenders may be given time in the bastille.

her "because she wanted more money."

Detective Lt. Harry Hansen called it "the most fiendish crime in my 19 years of experience here. It is worse than the Winnie Ruth Judd case."

Mrs. Judd is serving a life sentence for slaying Mrs. Agnes Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson, her roommates in Phoenix, Ariz., and sending the dismembered bodies in a trunk to Los Angeles in 1931.

Even as a screaming hotel maid set off an intensive city-wide police search yesterday, the second victim was dying in another hostelry a few blocks away.

She was Mrs. Lillian Johnson, about 38, wife of a merchant seaman now reported in the South Pacific.

Found stretched on a bed, she had been slashed from the breasts to the pelvic region.

Lt. McGarry said Wilson related that he hit her, then slashed her with a razor "for some reason—just pure cussedness, I guess."

Both the operator of the first hotel and a bellboy at the second had identified Wilson as the companion, first of Mrs. Griffin and later of Mrs. Johnson, in registering at the two hotels.

troops in their eight-day old offensive to within a mile and a half of the northern outskirts of the city, although the American to the southeast and west gave ground slightly losing one fort and a village.

North of Metz near the Luxembourg border the Americans astride the Maginot line pushed forward another mile near Ewendorf, only four miles from the German frontier.

Below Metz the Seventh army took Ste. Pole, 42 miles from Strasbourg, the closest the Allies have yet to come to that key crossing of the Rhine.

Patton's Third army southeast of Metz captured Racrange, and clung to high ground in the forest of Bride and Koecking overlooking Dieuze and practically denying that road center to the Germans.

Patton's men were fighting off a series of counter-attacks.

The German radio said the Americans had captured all of Morhange as well as four villages north of it.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

IT ALL SOUNDS LIKE a melodramatic fiction plot, but it's far from that. A year ago the great Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa and an outstanding figure of the British commonwealth, tipped us to possibilities in a blunt speech in London.

Smuts asserted that at the end of hostilities in which "three of the five great powers in Europe will have disappeared"—meaning France, Italy and Germany—Russia will be "mistress of the continent." He also declared Russia would be in a position of power unique in European history because "The Japanese empire also will have gone the way of all flesh and therefore any check or balance that might have arisen in the east will have disappeared."

The marshal said America, Britain and Russia would hold world power and must "retain leadership" in peace. In this triumvirate would be Britain "with a glory and a prestige such as perhaps no nation ever enjoyed" but economically poor as against the vast resources of the Soviet union and the United States—"an unequal partnership, I am afraid."

Therefore he urged that Britain work intimately with the small democracies in western Europe, to equalize the partnership. Since that remarkable speech—which Smuts himself said might contain "explosive" ideas—France has had a wonderful re-birth. She's being accorded her former place as a great power and Britain apparently intends to help her substantiate this position.

However, this is but the beginning. An interesting sequel to the Anglo-French love-feast is the announcement that Gen. De Gaulle is leaving soon for Moscow to visit Marshal Stalin at the latter's invitation. As a side remark it may be said that the French Communists are playing a new and important role these days.

Dems' Plurality In House Placed at 53

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A Democratic house plurality of 53 members over Republicans was shown today in a complete unofficial roster compiled from the Nov. 7 election.

The lineup in the new house convening Jan. 3 (barring the possibility that late soldier vote counts may switch some districts) will be: Democrats, 243;

Progressives, 190;

American Labor 1.

This compares with the margin of two the Democrats held over Republicans when they went into the election. However, the Democrats elected three additional members to fill unexpired terms—until Jan. 3—while one Democrat has resigned. The lineup now is 216 Democrats and 212 Republicans.

Provided soldier votes do not wipe out present leads in Missouri and Pennsylvania, the new senate will line up this way:

Democrats 57;

Republicans 38;

Progressive 1.

This would give the Republicans a net gain of one.

Of the 35 senate seats contested for, the Democrats apparently won 21 and the Republicans 14.

Report Keitel Wounded
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—An attempt was made to assassinate Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel during his recent visit to the Hungarian front, the Moscow radio said in a broadcast reported today by the Federal Communications commission.

The broadcast quoted a report from Geneva that rumors current in Switzerland say Keitel was wounded and returned to Berlin without visiting Budapest as planned.

California is named after an imaginary island figuring in an old-time romance.

CATHOLIC ACTION CREATES DIOCESE AT STEUBENVILLE

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, Nov. 16.—Pope Pius XII has subdivided the archdiocese of Cincinnati to create the ecclesiastical province of Ohio, and authoritative sources here today interpreted his action as recognition that the Catholic church in the United States is "growing up."

With Indiana also designated as a province, according to an announcement of the apostolic delegation in Washington, those sources said it was to be expected that each populous state of the union would in time become a compact ecclesiastical unit approaching those of pre-war Europe.

The changes they said, undoubtedly were for the purpose of tightening the administrative lines of the church, and bringing about closer supervision of the parishes.

Under the changes announced by the apostolic delegation last night, the Indianapolis diocese was raised to an archdiocese, with the Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter of Indianapolis raised to archbishop; the diocese of Steubenville was created by subdivision of the diocese of Columbus, and territory formerly part of the Cincinnati archdiocese was transferred to the diocese of Columbus.

While the Church of the Holy Name, Steubenville, was designated as cathedral of the new Ohio diocese, the bishops for the new diocese were not named. Cincinnati, seat of archbishop John T. McNicholas, was designated as metropolitan see for the province of Ohio.

The diocese of Steubenville, according to the announcement, includes the counties of Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Guernsey, Belmont, Noble, Monroe, Morgan, Washington, Athens, Meigs, Gallia and Lawrence. The diocese of Columbus in turn assumes from the archdiocese of Cincinnati the counties of Hardin, Marion, Union, Madison and Fayette, and the diocesan sections of Pickaway, Ross, Pike and Scioto counties.

Army Needs 300 Dogs To Train For Overseas Work

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Army Ground Forces require 300 dogs immediately for training as silent scout dogs in overseas service, Dogs For Defense announced today.

The animals will be trained with selected personnel at Fort Robinson, Neb., before being attached to combat units in war theaters, the organization said, outlining specifications for the best dogs which can be procured.

They must be German or Belgian shepherds, Doberman Pinschers, farm collies, Alaskan Malamutes or Huskies or crosses of these breeds, weigh between 60 and 80 pounds, stand 20 inches or more at the shoulder and be between 14 months and three years of age.

You Gotta Think Quick

By STANLEY PALEY Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

XXIX
A week went by. I tried to be rational and forget Mickey. I tried to tell myself that once you got sentimental about a girl you no longer were your own master. Maybe it was just as well that this had happened. Another little while and I'd have been tied to her apron strings. Kabateck and domesticity. What a laugh! Here I was, a success at 25, making more dough than lawyers twice my age. And I should let her twist me around her finger? It was no use. The harder I tried to shove her out of my mind, the more I got to thinking about her. I finally gave up the struggle and wrote Mickey a note telling her how I felt and asking for a chance to explain things. Perhaps she'd understand, I said. And perhaps she'd forgive me.

If she'd chosen to ignore this request after all that had happened, no one could have blamed her. But that wouldn't have been Mickey. She phoned me the following day to say she was now working in a bookstore and maybe we could meet at the end of the week. I couldn't wait that long so I begged her to make it that evening and she agreed.

The moment she opened the door I realized she was as anxious to forgive me as I was to be forgiven. I followed her into the living room where a fire was burning. It was like old times. This was going to be a cinch, I thought. But when we sat down, formal-like, and I had to begin, I was stymied.

From the sofa I shifted to the familiar place on the rug. After a moment she followed suit. Then she again waited for me to begin but I couldn't. I got up, walked over to the light switch and turned it off.

Then, in the semi-darkness, with only the fire to look at, I found the words I'd been groping for. That night she learned more about Leo Kabateck than I'd ever revealed to anyone before.

There wasn't just one of him. There were lots of Leos, beginning with the one who used to go to church with his old man and was fascinated by the bishop's long black beard. Later, another Leo heard sympathies inside his head but knew he'd never be able to set them down on paper. And yet another discovered he had a gift for making people feel what he felt by using words. Innumerable Leos who, as time went on, continued to perpetuate themselves, culminating in the one who sprang into life when Boggie arrived on the scene.

Here Mickey had interrupted me. "How did you and Boggie meet?" That was the same question Ginger had once asked me and I hadn't the guts to reply. For some reason it was easier now. "It was on the day the manager at Harris, Ferguson & Co. told me that some people were cut out to be musicians and they became musicians, while others were cut out to be shipping clerks and should be satisfied. It made my blood boil! I knew I wasn't cut out to be a shipping clerk...."

Funny how mad I could still be-

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

more than I did in brawn. So I started talking. I talked fast, pleading my case so well that the man became interested. What followed seemed incredible. Instead of turning me over to the cops he drove me to his apartment and made me tell him the whole story. When that was over he again astounded me by saying he'd provide the chance I wanted so desperately. But not to study music! Someone whose mind worked the way mine did should definitely study law. There was one condition to all this, however. I had to sign a statement to the effect that I'd attempted to steal the coat. That didn't seem like much of a price and I was glad to pay it, unaware that the document would be dangerous over my head for years to come....

By the time I finished, the fire had died out.

For a long time we both remained silent. And when Mickey finally spoke, it was hesitantly, groping for words like I'd done in the beginning.

"There's so much I could say, Leo. So much. But what's the use? It belongs to the past. It's dead. You started out on a certain road and you kept on going. Maybe it wasn't entirely your fault. Maybe it was. But it's not that that matters. It's what you're going to do from now on. You and Don."

IOWA LOOMING AS TEAM TO BEAT IN YEAR'S CAGE RACE

Loop Schedule Opens Dec. 30 With Ohio Against Michigan Squad

By JIMMY JORDAN
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The word went out around the Western Conference today to watch Iowa as serious training for the rapidly approaching basketball season got underway.

The Hawkeyes, nudged out of a chance to tie Ohio State for the crown last spring, are ready to storm back of the court with a vengeance—and with last year's stars augmented by new ones plucked out of the Navy's V-12 training camp.

While Ohio State and Wisconsin—the latter tied Iowa for second last season—were ready to dispute any pre-season Hawkeye claim, and Illinois assumed a "show me" attitude, the boys down at Iowa City pointed to these facts:

Forward Dick Ives, conference scoring champion and individual record holder, will be with Coach Lawrence (Pops) Harrison all season. He is a 4-F, Co-Captain Jack Spencer and Ned Postels, both 4-F, will be back at guards. Herbert Wilkinson, 6-foot, 4-inch guard on the University of Utah team which won the National Collegiate title last March, and his brother, Clayton, 6-foot, 4½-inch center on the 1943 Utah team, are at Iowa with the Navy.

Plenty of Reserves
To that nucleus, Coach Harrison can add a dozen high school stars of last year, including Bob Tedesky, all-state forward with the Duquesne, Pa., state champs of a year ago.

Ohio State has a number of veterans to back its claim for a second title, including Arnold Risen, 6-foot, 9-inch center, Jack Dugger, Paul Husten, Don Grate and Rodney Caudill—the five who may make up the starting lineup.

Wisconsin has veterans, height and a galaxy of 1944 high school stars to back its claim as a title possibility, and Illinois will build its squad around Walter Kirk, Jr., All-Conference guard who scored 223 points last season.

But the Hawkeyes appear, on paper, to be the team the rest of the Conference will have to beat for the title.

The season gets underway Dec. 30, with Michigan at Ohio State, and continues through March 3, with each team playing six games at home and six abroad. All have scheduled a number of non-league games, with Indiana first to get underway in a game with Wabash.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Haven't confirmed this yet, but word comes from a good source that the Army Air forces are going all out for big-time basketball even more than for football. A team being assembled at Wright Field, Ohio, includes John (Georgetown) Mahan, Harry (St. John's) Boycott, George (St. Joe) Semeky and other big stars—big in every sense. Col. Heinie Miller, former N. B. A. president now overseas (or on his way) with the Marines, has authored an article on Joe Gans for the current Esquire. After those trimmings by Navy and Army, Ed McKeever still thinks his Notre Dame team could play Ohio State on about even terms.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "The Penn team still has a chance to survive against Army if the coach will swallow a pride and trade all the V-12's and V-7's to the Nazis for one of those V-2 gadgets."

HEADLINE HEADLINER

Headline in New York paper: "Loh, Eli quarterback, is down with mumps." Laid Loh, no doubt.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

When Coach Stals Gill called out his Oregon state basketball team, the tallest candidate was Ted Henningsen, a mere 6-foot-6-inch. The Western Association baseball club owners are none too hopeful about resuming operations in 1945 because they don't think there'll be gas for bus travel. But they expect to be all set with an eight-club league for '46. Johnny Bulla has played golf with Bobby Jones 30 times in recent weeks when his airline piloting took him to Atlanta and Johnny has lost only once.

SERVICE DEPT.

Belated football results from England: The Air Service Command Warriors beat the Bearcats, 6-0, before 30,000 at Blackpool stadium when Ted D-Uva of New York scored on a triple lateral pass. A Navy team trounced a QI eleven 12-0 at Tewksbury and the unbeaten, unscored-on Shuttle Raiders from an Air Depot station commanded by Col. William E. Shuttles whipped a Thunderbolt team 30-0. The Raiders included former Collegians Pfc. Ashley Anderson, Wisconsin; Pvt. Ed Dosey, Purdue; and Pvt. Ed Snow, New Hampshire.

Chip Off Old Back

Harry Stuhldreher, Jr., son of Wisconsin's coach, plays quarterback for West Junior High of Madison. Small of stature like his signal-calling father who became famous as one of Notre Dame's Four Horsemen, Skippy Stuhldreher excels as a passer for a team that has won three games and tied another.

WINTER'S COMING! SHARPEN 'EM UP!

Salem youngsters with a taste for skating have only to wait for cold weather to arrive. Yes, the artificial pond created next to Reilly field last season will be in use again this year, Joe Kelley announced today. Workers have prepared everything for the first "good" cold weather. Kelley said, and the pond will be put into use as soon as Old Man Weather is in the right mood. So, sharpen up those skates!

LISKA PICKS OHIO OVER ILLINOIS 20-7

BY JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—This looks like the weekend for a clean prognosticating sweep, or maybe your scribe has been bounced on the head too many times with a football scoreboard. Anyway, here we go again.

Ohio State 20, Illinois 7.—The only thing that can trip the Buckeyes is too much worry over their finale with Michigan. The Illini apparently reached their peak against Notre Dame and with Buddy Young hampered by an ankle injury they need all the breaks they can get to upset Les Horvath & Company.

Navy 39, Purdue 12.—Boris Dimanicheff and his Freshmen Buddies can't match Navy's great array of backs.

Notre Dame 18, Northwestern 6.—Injuries and all, the Irish won't stand for a third straight trimming and this time they're back in the beardless set. If Bob Kelly doesn't mend enough to resume his dangerous running, look for a pretty sharp passing duel between Frank Daniewicz of the Irish and Johnny Yungworth of the Wildcats.

Michigan To Win
Michigan 30, Wisconsin 7.—The Badgers may battle furiously to win one for ill-fated Allan Shafer, but in the end Wolverine power and balance will conquer the mourning Wisconsin eleven.

Indiana 28, Pittsburgh 6.—The Hoosiers get a chance to re-align their buffeted front for the Old Oaken Bucket battle with Purdue. Minnesota, 36, Iowa 6.—The Gophers are due for a roaring finish with only the Hawkeyes and Wisconsin left to play.

Great Lakes 45, Marquette 7.—That was the score when the Blue-jackets and Hilltoppers tangled earlier in the season and there is every reason to suspect it will be repeated.

Buffalo Hits Back, Wins Over Hornets

(By Associated Press)

The Buffalo Bisons have fought back even in their din-dong battle with the Hershey Bears for first place in the Eastern division of the American hockey league.

It took a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Hornets, leaders in the western half, to pull the Bisons up to the Bears' total of 13 points. Doug Lewis, a veteran of the 1943-44 championship Bison crew, was the Buffalo star. The ex-Canadian sailor rang the bell three times for the hat trick as Eddie Shore's boys handed the Hornets their fourth straight licking.

Both Hershey and Buffalo will have to play heads-up hockey during the coming week in their first place fight, for the two clubs are scheduled to meet the currently red-hot Indianapolis Capitals. The Caps are only one point away from Pittsburgh and have played seven games without a loss since Oct. 28. Lewis' last two goals, the margin of victory, were made in five minutes of the last period.

NEW YORK—Bobby Perma led the jockeys during the 18-day Belmont fall meeting with 20 winners in 99 mounts. Ted Atkinson, the nation's leading jockey, was second, piloting 15 winners out of 101 mounts.

Rabbits, Pheasants Are Unrationed Meat After 11 A. M. Tomorrow

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16.—Rabbits, pheasants and similar game will be unrationed meat on the table when hunting season starts at 11 a. m. tomorrow—for nimrods who can get shotgun shells, time off from jobs and gasoline to drive to open country.

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters estimated 90 per cent of Ohio's hunters would take to the field on the opening day, and estimated 750,000 licenses might be sold this year.

Pheasant, Hungarian partridge and ruffed grouse can be taken through Dec. 2. The rabbit season extends to Jan. 13.

Waters said rabbits were more numerous in some counties than last year and quoted Ohio State university's wildlife researcher, Dr. Lawrence Hicks, as saying there would be "plenty" of pheasants.

GREENFORD CAGERS WILL OPEN SEASON

GREENFORD, Nov. 16.—The local High cagers play their first game of basketball tomorrow evening with Goshen on the home floor.

The schedule for the year is as follows:

Friday, Nov. 17, Goshen, here.
Wednesday, Nov. 22, Canfield, there.

Tuesday, Nov. 28, North Jackson, here.

Friday, Dec. 1, Berlin Center, there.

Friday, Dec. 8, North Lima, here.

Friday, Dec. 15, Leetonia, here.

Friday, Dec. 22, Goshen, there.

Friday, Jan. 5, Springfield, here.

Friday, Jan. 12, Beloit, there.

Saturday, Jan. 13, Canfield, here.

Tuesday, Jan. 16, North Jackson, there.

Friday, Jan. 26, North Lima, there.

Friday, Feb. 2, Berlin Center, here.

Friday, Feb. 9, Springfield, there.

Goshen High Will Play Beloit Wednesday, Nov. 22

The basketball game between Goshen High school and Beloit High scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 22, has been advanced to Tuesday evening, Nov. 21.

This is the first home game of the season. Damascus plays at Greenford on Friday.

how much WHITE LIGHT

in a pound of BLACK COAL?

THE lamp has a 100-watt bulb in it and the lump of coal weighs one pound.

Pulverized and blown into the big boiler of a modern power-plant, a pound of coal* provides enough steam to generate one kilowatt-hour of electricity.

That much electricity, in turn, will light the lamp for ten hours—long enough to read this newspaper and a couple of novels. Or it will run a small radio for 25 hours, a food mixer for 13 hours, a washer for almost 7.

"So what?" you say. The point is this. 25 years ago, it took about three times as much coal to produce a kilowatt-hour of electricity as it does today!

The all-around efficiency which gets several times as much white light from black coal has benefited YOU in many ways.

It has made your electric service better and cheaper year by year. It has met tremendous wartime demands for electric power, without delay, shortages or rationing. It has held the price of electricity at an all-time low, while other costs went up.

These results come from the sound business management of the nation's light and power companies—and from the hard work of men and women who know their business—and who are preparing for even greater accomplishments tomorrow.

*Some plants use less than 1 pound; some more, because of differences in coal and equipment. The nation-wide average is 1.3 pounds per kilowatt-hour.

Expression Of Opinions In Other Grid Schools And Camps Favor Old Rule

By JAN HARTNETT

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Ohio State's unbeaten and untied football team is casting longing, hopeful eyes at a possible post-season Rose Bowl game, but some of the Big Ten Conference faculty officials have frowned on the idea—and there's a conference rule opposing such contests.

The Buckeyes, receptive to a tentative bid to the Coast classic, are backing a plan to have the Conference change its ruling banning post-season games, says Athletic Director L. W. St. John. A majority of the faculty athletic committee is necessary to lift the ban imposed several years ago and pave the way for Ohio to accept a formal bid. Opinions expressed by several officials yesterday indicated the rule will not be rescinded.

Sentiment out California way was all in favor of the ban lifting. C. Hal Reynolds, chairman of the Tournament of Roses association's football committee, said the Big Ten ruling "has repeatedly prevented us from inviting a team which we really wanted to have."

An official poll of Conference schools was not too encouraging for supporters of the Buckeye idea. Professor Henry Rottschaefer of Minnesota, chairman of the faculty group, said the wartime rules suspension action needed no interpretation, stating the language was definite in that "eligibility" rules were within only and not the ban on post-season games.

Some Against
Maj. John L. Griffith, Conference athletic commissioner, declined to comment but some of the coaches and athletic directors favored the idea. At Purdue Athletic Director Guy Mackey said: "Personally I'd be glad to have the rule against post-season games lifted. However, I can't speak for the university."

Joining Mackey, K. L. (Tug) Wilson, Northwestern athletic director declared: "I would like very much to see Ohio State given an opportunity to go to the Rose Bowl but the decision is up to the faculty committee." On the other hand, Bernie Bierman, Minnesota head football coach, and Athletic Director Douglas Mills of Illinois, both opposed the plan.

Wisconsin's Faculty Representative Dr. William F. Lorenz commented: "If Wisconsin planned a post season game our attitude would be against it."

Karl Lieb, Iowa athletic board head and Big Ten faculty representative, said: "The Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conferences have stood for everything that is best for college athletics and football in particular and such an arrangement

BLOOMBERG'S

ON STATE ST.

THE THEATER

Fibber McGee and Mollie, favorite radio comedy team, are back on the screen again in "Heavenly Days," which shows at the State tonight, Friday and Saturday. The supporting cast includes Eugene Pallette as a pompous senator who makes the mistake of giving a pass into the congressional hall to Fibber, who tries to tell Congress how to run the government; Don Douglas, Gordon Oliver and Barbara Hale, Raymond Walburn, Frieda Inescort and Charles Trowbridge.

Portraying the "average American man," McGee heads for Washington to help Congress do a little post-war planning and runs into a couple of newspaper writers and a public opinion poll director who helps him. At the Grand tonight, Friday and Saturday are: William Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy in "Forty Thieves," and "They Live In Fear," story of a Nazi-bred youth who tries to make a new life in this country.

Traffic Violators Fined

LISBON, Nov. 16—Wilbur Love, Wellsville, arrested Saturday on a charge of violating the speed law, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice Felix Butch of Lisbon and was fined $10 and costs. Joe Armstrong, R. D. 3, Lisbon, arrested Tuesday on a charge of having no tail light on his auto, also pleaded guilty before Justice

Butch and was fined $10 and costs. Both men were brought in by state patrolmen.
